Students celebrate education week

In celebration of American Education Week (Nov. 14-20), AMS students attended an "Education Variety Hour" assembly, held in the AMS gym on Friday.

Many activities were included in the variety hour. Choral music was performed by the Special Interest Music Group, directed by Miss Sue Wright, and accompanied by Miss Kristi Craft. The Foreign Language Special Interest Group presented a Spanish Rally during which they taught the student body and faculty the Spanish names for days of the week. This was led by Mrs. Phillis Wilson. The Intermediate Band played three selections under the direction of student members.

A gymnastics demonstration was presented by the Longwood College Gymnastic Team, coached by Ms. Ruth Budd.

Clubs entered a Banner Contest competing for the best banner based on the theme of "Education". The banners were presented and were judged on the basis os applause. The Spirit Club won with a banner depicting the popular "Smurf" character proclaiming "You can't Smurf up with a good education". Other beautiful banners were presented by the FHA, the Sciepce Club and the Art Club.

Essay winners were announced. They were Aretha Johnson, grade 8, and Katrina Archer, grade 7. The assembly ended in high spirits as the 7th graders and 8th graders competed in an Education Cheer Off which was won by the 8th grade.

MC's for the program were members of the AMS Broadcast Club.

On November 16, twenty-eight students from AMS Special Interest Groups went to see the Ballet Folklarico Concert at Rustburg H.S. The dance group is made up of 26 high school and college students from Victoria, Texas. They are all members of the Catholic Youth Organization.

Dances were performed from eight regions of Mexico. They portrayed every aspect of life. Some were of a ceremonial nature. These included worship to their Gods, sacrificial dances, battles, hunting, and many dances which reflected their love for beauty.

The climax of the show came when 4 dancers performed los movios (the lovers). The dancers nimbly maneuvered their feet to tie a long ribbon into a wedding bow, symbolic of their love.

During the finale the dancers came down into the audience. Some volunteers were taught Mexican dances. Everyone applauded enthusiastically at the end of the program.

ON FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1982, students in Ms. Bradley's 5th grade class presented a play entitled, "Stone Soup", to several other 5th grade classes. "Stone Soup" is a dramatized version of a folk tale that exists in the folklore of several countries. In the story, due to the cleverness of some of the characters and the naivete of others, something is made from "nothing." The playlet provided an opportunity for pupils to discuss play form, to recognize plot structure and to interpret story action through dramatization. Participants were Brandon Short, Shawn Christian, E. B. Hamlett, Dale Williamson, Chad Page, Jeffery Paulette, William Wagner, Cindy Bryant, Angela Harris, Debbie Hendrick, Dorothy Hernandez, Daphne Mayberry, Val Megginson, and Troy Thornton.

A SECOND MORTGAGE.
Home improvement without wrecking your budget.

This is the time of year when a lot of us start thinking about adding on a room or two to the old place. Or completely redecorating. Problem is that it costs a lot of money. And while you can afford to pay for it over the long haul, you just don't have that much money at one time.

There's an easy solution: a Central Fidelity Second Mortgage. With the equity you've been building up in your home you can borrow money for home fix-up, or any good reason. And you can take as much as ten years to repay.
Talk to a Central Fidelity Loan Officer about your money needs. And improve your home without wrecking your budget.

Ruritans meet

The Oakville Ruritan Club met Thursday, November 4, 1982 for the regular monthly meeting. The program was presented by David Coffman, Public Affairs Forrester for the Westvaco Corporation. Mr. Coffman told the club of the many programs administered by Westvaco in an effort to protect the land and wildlife. He pointed out that the lack of respect by a few caused problems for all hunters.

In other business several club officers were selected to attend a regional training session.

The next meeting, which will be "Ladies Night" will be held Thursday, December 2, 1982 at 7:00 p.m., at the Oakville School. All members and guests are urged to attend.

Festival planned

The Mt. Obed Baptist Church Senior Choir will be sponsoring their annual "Harvest Festival" on Sunday, November 28 at 6 p.m.

The program will feature outstanding Gospel groups and soloists. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Parents will advise

ACHS principal, Donald L. Armentrout, announced recently the formation of a Parents Advisory Council. The Council members for 1982-83 are: Mrs. Nugene Harvey, Mrs. Linda Seay, Mrs. Jackie Ballowe, Mrs. Ora McCoy, Mrs. Betty Steinkamp, and Mrs. Clark Jones. The purposes of the Advisory Council are as follows:

1. To give suggestions and ideas for the development and evaluation of the Annual School Plan

2. To provide a medium for idea exchange with the Appomattox County School's Central Planning Council

To provide opportunities for parents to become more informed regarding ACHS programs, goals, policies and procedures

4. To explore together ways of improving the educational process for student growth and development

At the first meeting on Wednesday, November 17th, the committee was organized and the purposes were discussed. Emphasis was given to the discussion of objectives contained in the County Six Year Plan 1983-1989 and ACHS Annual School Plan.

This Council will meet again in January.

Kidnapping service offered

Virginia residents involved in parental kidnapping or child custody cases are now among the first in the nation to be able to use a federal service to locate their missing children.

Available through the Virginia Department of Social Services' Division of Support Enforcement Programs, this service is made possible through the Department's access to the Federal Parent Locator Service (FPLS).

Previously the FPLS provided information to locate absent parents only for the purpose of establishing paternity or establishing and enforcing child support obligations.

However, recent amendments to the federal Parental Kidnapping Act, now also allow states to obtain FPLS information for use in parental kidnapping and child custody cases.

"It is hoped that this service will provide assistance to the custodial parent whose child was unlawfully removed," said Jean White, director of the Division of Support Enforcement Programs. "However, those wishing to take advantage of this service should be aware that the data in the FPLS files is at least 8 months, and in some instances 18 months old; thus if the child has recently disappeared, it is not likely that we could be of any assistance," she cautioned.

The Division of Support Enforcement will have sole authority for making referrals to the FPLS. To offset expenses, a non-refundable fee of $40.00 is charged for the service.

Federal restrictions limit FPLS access to certain legal authorities. These authorities include agents or attorneys of the state, courts or agents of the courts, and agents or attorneys of the United States with established authority or jurisdiction to act in connection with a parental kidnapping or child custody case.

Applications may be obtained by writing to Gloria Fitzgerald, Division of Support Enforcement Programs, Virginia Department of Social Services, 8007 Discovery Drive, Richmond, Virginia 23288.

For more information contact Randy Williams, phone 352-7125, at the Appomattox County Welfare Department.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP REYNOLDS of Red House were honored on Sunday, Nov. 7 when their children were hosts for a reception celebrating their parents 50th wedding anniversary. Approximately 200 guests called between the hours of two and four o'clock in the afternoon. A yellow linen cloth topped by white lace on the dining room table and arrangements of yellow and white fresh flowers carried out the color scheme of gold and white. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were married on Nov. 5, 1932 at Rustburg. They are the parents of four children, ten grandchildren and three great grandchildren.
